SONGS FOR SHELTER

SHELTER, FOOD, AND LOVE FOR SAN DIEGO'S TEENS LIVING ON THE STREETS.

songsforshelter.com

JUNGLE LOVE, IT'S DRIVIN' ME MAD, IT'S MAKIN' ME CRAZY...

Yes, the classic song from The Steve Miller Band, recent inductees into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame!

Greg Douglass, who co-wrote Jungle Love and was the guitarist with The Steve Miller Band during the 70s would like to spend an evening with you. Maybe you want to take yourself back to high school and jam a little. Or maybe just talk 70s rock with a man who lived it, toured it, and has a few stories to share about the glory days of rock and roll.

While you and your dinner guests go back in time, food will be prepared by Barbusa, the latest and new restaurant from the Busalacchi Restaurant Group.

You'll eat like a rock star and listen to a few old tunes from a once-in-a-lifetime era for music. Maybe Greg Douglass will even show you to how to riff like a rock star! 100% of your money goes to the Youth Emergency Shelter and the Toussaint Academy. Songs for Shelter was formed by 15-year-old Ava Parisi to raise awareness and money for teens sleeping on the streets of San Diego, a problem that many didn't know existed. But in 2015, the Youth Emergency Shelter and Toussaint Academy served 1,837 teens living on the streets by providing outreach, services, support, a safe shelter for up to 30 days, and long-term housing for up to four years. They spend approximately $1288.09 per teen for all of their services. So your purchase of The Greg Douglass Experience might just change the future for one teen.
